

THRIGBY CONSERVATION FUND

ADOPTION SCHEME

Any animal or tree can be adopted for one year for £25 or more. Each adoption is acknowledged with its own plaque.

All adoption monies go into the Conservation Fund and all of that fund is used to help conservation work particularly with Asian animals if they are connected with work here at Thrigby.

None of the adoption money goes for administration or to pay for the plaques. It is regretted therefore that no photographs can be supplied or correspondence be entered into about particular animals.

Conservation projects helped to date include: Durrell Wildlife Conservation Trust and the Pygmy Hog of Assam, World Pheasant Association D.N.A. study in rare Pheasants, I.U.C.N. Conservation Specialist Breeding Group, ZOO Outreach of India, The Zoological Society of Wales and their Tigers, Marwell Preservation Trust and Red Pandas, Manchester Metropolitan University and the Palawan Peacock Pheasant, The Zoological Society of London and Artificial Insemination in rare Leopards, Kiev Zoo Bull Elephant dentistry, 21st Century Tiger Fund, Re-introduction of Green Peafowl into Malaya, Survey of the exceedingly rare Pink-billed Parrot Finch in Fiji, The funding of Project Headquarters and Quarantine facilities for the Owston's Palm Civet in Vietnam, The release of Malay Peacock Pheasants that had been bred in the U.K. back into the wild.
